Mount Union Choir Off On Tour of Europe

Pictured above are some of the 115 happy Mount Union students, faculty, and parents as they embark on their four-week tour of Europe. The choir will be the only American organization participating in the World Conference held in Oslo during the month of August. The group left from the Cleveland Hopkins Airport Friday morning by chartered flight to Paris where they will begin a four-week tour of Northern Europe.

Senate Should Pass Aid Bill

JFK Measure Gets Some GOP Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of Senate Republicans—admittedly a small minority of their party—rallied today to support of President Kennedy's Treasury-financed, long-term loan program for the development of struggling new nations.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said there will be enough Republican votes to put over the 5-year, $8.8-billion loan program. The loan authority for the first year — $1,187,000,000 — is part of this year's $4,326,500,000 foreign aid bill on which debate opened yesterday.

The big fight will come first on a proposed amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require the President to come back to Congress each year for appropriations to finance the fund. No votes are expected before Tuesday or Wednesday.

Cooper, a former ambassador to India, joined Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in asking Senate passage of the foreign aid bill.

He said that long-term financing is "an imperative condition toward making our foreign aid program truly effective."

He called the term "back-door financing" — which Byrd and many Republicans have used to describe the borrowing authority

JFK, Adlai Meet to Plan U.N. Strategy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson sit down today for a point-by-point review of U.S. strategy in the upcoming General Assembly of the United Nations.

Their conference is expected to last for many hours. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, will remain overnight as Kennedy's guest at the Cape Cod summer White House.

Also on hand is Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs, who flew from the capital with Kennedy late Friday and is spending the week end at nearby Harwichport.

Stevenson gave Kennedy a preliminary report Thursday on his recent trip to Europe, during which he conferred with French President Charles de Gaulle, among others.

While the discussion between Kennedy and Stevenson was billed in advance as dealing with all the problems expected to come before the U.N. General Assembly next month, Germany and divided Berlin presumably will be in for paramount attention.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Western powers Friday he is

Mishap on Rt. 62, North of Salem

7 Persons Critical After 2-Car Crash

A violent head-on crash of two cars on Rt. 62, about four and a half miles north of Salem at 1:30 Friday afternoon, brought critical injuries to the seven occupants of the vehicles.

All of the injured were brought by three ambulances to Salem hospitals. Two were later transferred to South Side in Youngstown.

Injured were:

Governor To Call Back Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legislature will be called back for a special session after Labor Day to act on a capital improvements bill, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor told newsmen Friday he would not set a date for an extraordinary session until Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, recovers sufficiently from a minor operation.

Mechem underwent surgery in University Hospital here Thursday. Aides said he might leave the hospital within two weeks with the prospect of full recovery in a month.

DiSalle, saying he will visit Mechem in the hospital to discuss a special session, added, "I will not call one as long as Senator Mechem is incapacitated."

"I doubt that he will be available until after the first of September. He is coming along well but it looks like he will be out of circulation about a month."

"We almost have to call a special session after Senator Mechem gets out of the hospital."

The governor said capital improvement funds should be provided, for projects under contract.

Cleveland Suffers Mass Power Failure

CLEVELAND (AP) — A falling tree limb was blamed for Friday's massive power failure that left some two million persons without electricity in a 1,700-square-mile area.

Duration of the failure, worst in Cleveland's history, varied from only a few minutes in downtown Cleveland to nearly three hours in some outlying areas.

The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. reported more than 70 per cent of its service in 138 communities in Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula counties and a small fringe of Lorain County was affected by the power failure.

Through a link with the Ohio Edison Co.—a link which also was knocked out—the power blackout stretched as far west as Sandusky and crippled service in Lorain and Elyria, which also are in Ohio Edison territory.

The CEI reported that service

AllianceWare Acquired by Crane Co.

The Crane Co. of Chicago has acquired assets of AllianceWare, Inc., of Alliance, a wholly owned subsidiary of American Metal Products Co., in return for approximately $3,500,000 and 231,674 shares of Briggs Manufacturing Co. of Detroit.

American Metal Products Co. thereby acquired a 21 per cent interest in Briggs Manufacturing Co. and placed four directors on the seven-man Briggs Board.

At a special meeting of the Briggs Board, four executives of American Metal Products, including Paul M. Corp of Alliance, were elected to the board. Also named were AMP executives Andrew M. Mras, R. Jamison Williams, and Douglas F. Roby.

Three Briggs directors continuing to serve on the board are, A. VanderZee, Peter Monahan, and Thomas Degani.

The Briggs Board also elected Corp as president and chief executive officer and Charles W. Betz, vice-president of sales, for that company. Their duties as officers in the Detroit firm are to begin immediately. They have served in similar posts at AllianceWare, Inc.

No indication was made of management plans for the AllianceWare, Inc. plant, but it was indicated that the Crane Co. plans to continue operations in a normal fashion at the Alliance plant. Crane recently also acquired as-

Paris Confabs Open On Berlin Crisis Question

Foreign Ministers Prepare Groundwork To Meet Red Threat

PARIS (AP)—The Western foreign ministers today opened a conference on the critical Berlin situation, determined to resist Soviet threats but willing to negotiate.

Representatives of the United States, Britain and France met for the opening session at the French Foreign Ministry. The West German minister will join the talks later in the day.

The start of the three-day conference coincided with intelligence reports of mounting anti-Communist unrest in Red-ruled East Germany.

The theory was gaining ground in Western circles that Soviet Premier Khrushchev, now that his threats to sign a peace treaty with East Germany have touched off the current crisis, is in some danger of running into trouble in the puppet state.

Intelligence reports indicate that the Communist rulers of East Germany are unable to contain the growing anti-Soviet feeling there. The situation is even being compared with 1953 when the East Germans revolted briefly against the Red regime.

A revolt in East Germany would make the Berlin situation even more explosive than it now is. It would confront the Western powers with the problem of what to do should West German citizens seek to cross the frontier to aid their kinsmen in the East.

That is just one of the reasons, informants said, why the Western powers must be willing to negotiate with the Soviet Union if a way can be found for doing so devoid of any threats.

East-West talks, either at the foreign ministers or the summit level, would provide a face-saving out for Khrushchev.

The Western ministers — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Britain's Lord Home, Maurice Couve de Murville of France and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano — plan to hammer at a common course of diplomatic, political, and military action.

It is designed to convince Khrushchev the West will defy any Communist move against the 2.2 million West Berliners isolated 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain. But all signs indicate negotiations were being considered on both sides.

On his arrival Friday Rusk made it clear the West would not refrain from saber-rattling.

Soviet notes issued to the three Western powers declared that Khrushchev also was leaning toward negotiation but unwilling to back down on the threat to sign a treaty with East Germany and turn over to East Germany the control of Allied access routes to Berlin.

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan said Friday night in London that the West can never abandon West Berlin but must be ready to talk with the Russians on the issue.

Hold Baby Sitter In Deaths Of 3 Children

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—A baby sitter described by acquaintances as one who craved love and affection was held today by police, who said she admitted that three small children she tended had died in her arms.

No suspicion had been attached to Miss Mary Kathryn Madigan, 29, of Dubuque, until the county medical examiner determined that Gail Nemmers, 3, who had been left in her care Thursday night, died of suffocation.

Then Police Capt. Byrne O'Brien began looking into the death of another child of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Nemmers, Karen, 22 months, July 12, and the death of Michael Fitzpatrick, 4 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fitzpatrick, July 14.

Miss Madigan, who had acted as baby sitter for both of these families, told police after her arrest and after her recovery from hysteria, that she liked to "hold babies tight."

"I was trying to give them love and affection," she said. Dubuque County Atty. Robert Oeth said he planned to file some type of a homicide charge against Miss Madigan today.

Algiers Awaits New Outbreak Of Violence

Right-Wing Group Hooks Into Radio, Assails DeGaulle

ALGIERS (AP) — Underground right-wing extremists today hooked into the cable of Radio Algiers on a midday news broadcast and launched a violent attack on French President Charles de Gaulle.

The startling broadcast, which came into the sets of listeners here, led many to believe that the extremists had seized the station itself. But they made no appearance.

Officials said the secret hook-in was done in such a manner as to throw two of the regular transmitters temporarily off the air, and permitting the extremists to give the impression they were talking from the radio station building itself.

The broadcast backgrounded with military marches continued for about half an hour and ceased abruptly.

Official French sources said Algiers was quiet. But Europeans who heard the broadcast in their homes were excited thinking another uprising was at hand.

The Rightist's got the same idea.

The broadcast broke into a regular news broadcast. The speaker said he was broadcasting from Radio Algiers.

In the name of Gen. Paul Gardy, a fugitive army officer, the broadcast assailed De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria. It praised the organization of a secret army by the European settlers who want to keep Algeria a part of France.

A retired general, Gardy, aided by 60 paratroopers, took over control of Oran in western Algeria last April after other right-wing military leaders had seized control of Algiers.

A special military tribunal in Paris sentenced Gardy to death in absentia on July 11.

Sentenced to death at the same time were two other principal leaders, Gen. Raoul Salan, former supreme military commander in Algeria, and Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, a former air force chief.

All three were reported in hiding in Algeria at the time of the sentencing. They are believed leading a rightwing underground movement known as the Secret Army Organization, which has

NEW PHYSICAL THERAPY DEPARTMENT — Mrs. F. H. Waiwai, left, director of housekeeping at Salem City Hospital, and W. M. Hannay, the hospital's director of purchasing, inspect a whirlpool bath to be used in the physical therapy department at the hospital when operation of the new facility begins Monday on a temporary basis.

City Hospital To Open Physical Therapy Dept.

Salem City Hospital will add another feature to its expanding facilities when a department of physical therapy begins operation Monday.

Located in the building just east of the hospital, the facility will offer therapeutic treatment to Salem area residents, including such features as whirlpool bath, diathermy, hydrotherapy, heat penetration, massage and supervised exercise.

The department will operate on a temporary basis beginning Monday, with the hours of operation from 9 a.m. to noon on Mondays and Fridays, and 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesdays. The department will be extended to a full time schedule as the demand for service develops, according to C. J. Mosher, Jr., City Hospital administrator.

Mrs. Eric Nyberg of the Goshen Road will be in charge of the department.

Mosher says the charge for heat penetration, massage, hydrotherapy and supervised exercises will be $3 per treatment. As soon as costs can be determined, the rates will be adjusted to the actual cost of operating the department, he said.

According to Mosher, the hospital board of trustees feels there is a definite need for the therapy service in the area to improve disabling physical ailments occurring.

Tuberculin Tests, X-Rays Planned In Area Communities

Tuberculin testing and free chest X-ray service will be offered when the Christmas seal mobil X-ray unit visits East Palestine's street fair on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 11 and 12. Hours are 2 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m., according to Albert Hanna, president of the Columbiana County Health League.

Plans for September include tuberculin testing for teachers in Columbiana. Positive reactors to this test will be referred to the X-ray unit when it operates at the street fair in Columbiana Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8 and 9.

Tuberculin skin testing, according to Hanna, identifies those persons who have been infected by the TB germ. Equipment for tuberculin testing has been made available to both hospitals in Salem and is being used in a number of physicians' private offices in Salem and elsewhere in the county.

Early this year the board of directors of the health league authorized the use of the mobile X-ray unit for a 10-day period. This represents no change in the amount of Christmas seal allocated from the previous year.

Employees of the Deming Co. and Eljer Co. were given X-rays earlier this year.

Collapses In Post Office In Florida

Local Manufacturer Was Founder of Hunt Valve Co.

Nathan C. Hunt, 62, founder of the C. B. Hunt & Son Co., operating now under the name of the Hunt Valve Co., a division of the International Basic Economy Corp., died of a heart attack Friday morning at 11 at Boynton Beach, Fla.

Mr. Hunt collapsed in the post office at Boynton Beach and was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Death came unexpectedly to the Salem manufacturer and civic leader. He had not been ill.

Mr. Hunt, who maintained his permanent residence at Delray Beach, which adjoins Boynton Beach, operated the company's experimental laboratory in the latter community.

Founded Salem Firm

Mr. Hunt founded the C. B. Hunt & Son Co. in 1919 as a small garage shop when he was a youth not yet 21. His father guided the shop operation during its formative years.

The younger man, who subsequently served as president and chairman of the board, began the business after he had acquired the rights to the "Quick-as-Wink" hose couplings from the former Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

This modest beginning culminated in a modern plant and offices and a series of valve designs that brought the Salem firm recognition as producers of one of the most comprehensive lines of control valves in the industry.

Hunt valves today are distributed throughout the United States and Canada, South America and a number of European countries. Hunt-manufactured valves were used in the Nautilus, the first atomic-powered submarine.

Sold Interest In Firm

Mr. Hunt's father later sold his interest in the firm, but the partnership was continued by Mr. Hunt and his wife, Marjorie K., until 1945 when a corporation was formed under the name of C. B. Hunt & Son, Inc.

Stockholders of the company, whose manufacturing facilities and offices are located at 1943 E. State St., in February, 1960, approved the sale of the firm's assets to the International Basic Economy Corp., a Rockefeller-supported organization with offices in New York City.

Mr. Hunt continued to serve the company in the capacity of vice president in charge of engineering, research and development and as a consultant. Other officers are L. A. Bateman, executive vice president and general manager, Howard E. Jesko, vice president, and Andrew V. Ney, sales manager.

Moved To Florida

The founder of the firm made his permanent home in Salem until the mid-1940's when he moved to Florida. However, he still returned to this city each summer,

County Court July Receipts Total $3,788

Receipts totaling $3,788.17 were collected in Judge Luther Donbar's Northwest County Court during July from civil and criminal cases, according to a monthly report prepared by Deputy Clerk Mrs. Ida Austin.

Receipts from 84 criminal cases amounted to $2,522.60 while 20 civil cases brought in $1,265.57.

The court was closed during the week of July 16 for vacations.

The state's share of 45 per cent of highway patrol cases for July amounted to $374.85 while the county's 55 per cent share of these cases came to $458.15.

Other disbursements in criminal cases included the following:

To county from court costs, $241; to county from constable fees, $40; to Sheriff Russell VanFossan from sheriff fees, $6; and constable fees, $40.

Disbursements in civil cases included court costs to county, $125.05; and constable fees, $83.

Total disbursements for criminal and civil cases in July amounted to $1,368.45.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A Word To The Wise

At Saranac Lake, New York, there is a bronze statue of a man who sits wrapped in thought, gazing into the distance of the Adirondacks. On its pedestal is inscribed the word Acquiescence. The statue commemorates a noble man. The inscription is a tribute to the force of an idea embodied in a single word.

The man was Edward Livingston Trudeau, a great pioneer in the treatment of tuberculosis. He had contracted the disease himself at an early age, scarcely two years after obtaining his degree as a medical doctor. He was obliged to give up his practice in the city and move to Saranac for his health's sake. There he founded a laboratory for the study of TB and a sanitarium for tubercular patients who could not afford the cost of treatment. He lived and worked at Saranac the rest of his days.

THE WORD Acquiescence on the bronze statue stands for the realization which grew upon Trudeau across the years, that some things in life are inevitable and a person must learn to yield to the will of God. In his autobiography he wrote of having witnessed at Saranac Lake many instances of "the victory of the spirit over the body," but referred with special admiration to those victories "that demand acquiescence in worldly failure and in the supreme sacrifice of life." What a mighty role a word can play in the shaping of a man's philosophy.

A word spoken and savored mentally can change and dispel a negative condition of the heart or mind. Some psychiatrists even prescribe for certain patients the daily repetition of appropriate health-giving words as part of the therapy for their emotional disturbances.

And I remember reading of how a well-known professor of neuro-pathology, being personally afflicted with inferiority feelings, developed more self-confidence by pronouncing to himself 25 or 30 times a day the word "invulnerability."

A CERTAIN MAN with whom I was acquainted used to combat a chronic tendency to acute nervousness by saying over and over various brief phrases from the Bible which to him suggested peace.

For example, "the waters of Shiloh." This is a fine example of the power of words to affect states of mind without necessarily having any precise connotation.

I myself have visited Biblical Shiloh. It is just a place and the waters there are just waters — no more beautiful or peaceful than dozens of lakes and streams anywhere in the United States. But the phrase "the waters of Shiloh" has something mellifluous about it, musical, gentle, evocative of peace.

Another phrase my friend would repeat at times was "the snows of Hermon." It used to make him quiet inwardly to express peace in that picturesque phrase.

PERSONALLY I HAVE three favorite words with which like to fill my mind. They are: tranquility; urbanity; imperturbability. I have gone all around the country in speeches advocating these favorite words of mine. And I sincerely believe that a person would profit from standing each morning for two or three minutes at his window quietly saying, "Tranquility — or urbanity — or imperturbability." He would gradually become a person of greater calm and composure. Since a statement is the externalization of a thought, the saying of such words can help develop healthy attitudes.

It is said that we are what we think. It is also true that we become what we say. Think of an excitable, nervous person whom you may know. Isn't he always using nervously excitable words?

Consider some calm and controlled acquaintance. What are his words like? They are calm and controlled words, of course.

Listen to a person talk for a while and you will have a pretty accurate idea of what he is. The word pattern reveals the thought pattern.

One sound reason for a daily reading of the Bible is that this practice tends to fill your thoughts with strong, healthy words. And if you form the habit, not only of reading these words, but of saying them as well, you will find yourself becoming what the words picture.

It's strange, but true, that words make the man.

LUTHERANS BELIEVE...

Good works are necessary. They are necessary because they express the Christian faith. They do not earn merit in God's sight, nor gain heaven.

How come? Well, a Christian is a Christian, or a Christ follower, or a "little Christ."

So, the Christian must follow in Christ's steps—loving, feeding, healing.

These are good works.

These works reveal the love of God through His people; these works lead people to Him; these works are a fulfillment of Christ's statement that His followers would do greater works than He did.

Good works come after faith. They grow out of faith.

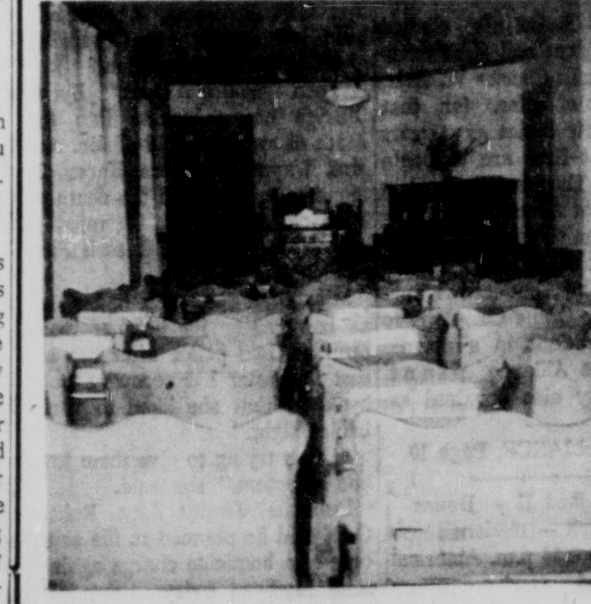

A person who has faith in Jesus Christ simply can't help doing good works, in order that Christ might be shared with the world. Faith without works is dead.

An excellent slogan for the Christian might be HAVE FAITH—MUST WORK.

2 More Seek Posts on Board at Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Virgil Y. Blosser, Canfield Road, Columbiana, and Arthur C. Pfund Jr. of Eureka Road are two candidates seeking the three seats on the local Board of Education which will be on the ballot at the Nov. 7 election. Up to date there are nine candidates.

Blosser has been an engineer for the last 10 years at the National Rubber Machinery Co. He is an associate member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He attended Goshen College and was graduated from Ohio State University with a degree in mechanical engineering.

He and his wife Mildred, have three sons—two of school age. They are members of the Church of the Nazarene, where Blosser was a former member of the board of trustees.

Pfund is the commercial and service superintendent for the Carlson Electric Co. in Youngstown. He is president of the Boosters Club. He and his wife have three sons.

MEMBERS OF THE local police department will be guests of the Rotary Club Monday evening at Valley Golf Club.

C. A. Burbick is the program chairman for the meeting. Traffic safety will be the program.

The annual daily vacation Bible school at the Presbyterian Church will open Monday and will continue for two weeks.

Sessions will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and enrollment is open to children 4 and older.

The staff of leaders in the various divisions will be:

Worship, Mrs. James Churchfield; music, Mrs. John McGeehen and Mrs. E. A. Parsly. Nursery, Pamela Irons, Grace Gloss, and Candy Roth.

Marine Recruiting Up; Applicants Still Sought

Although the number of applicants for enlistment in the Marine Corps has doubled in this area recently, Marine Sgt. Robert A. Click, noncommissioned officer in charge of the Youngstown recruiting station, said today that his office will continue to accept all applicants who can meet the physical and mental requirements of the Corps.

Sgt. Click will be at the Salem Post Office from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday to interview prospective applicants. A Marine recruiter will be available at the recruiting office here on Wednesday afternoon each week.

WINGS OF FAITH

WHO does not marvel at the flight of a bird? The roaring jet does not seem such a miracle. It cannot fly with the same grace and beauty and ease.

Every bird must learn to fly. The mother bird pushes her fledgling out of the nest. The young bird falls helplessly until its wings discover the invisible support of the air.

If our lives are to rise beyond frail human nature, we too must learn to fly . . . on wings of faith. We must discover the invisible support of God's presence and power.

Come to Church next Sunday. You can find there the invisible support of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Uncle Sam Needs A Drum

The United States is like a merchant whose competitor is doing a landoffice business with an item that has been dying on the shelf.

The Soviet Union is getting worldwide attention with a plan for building up the Communist Conspiracy at home and abroad. Even Americans feel they owe it to themselves to see what the Russians are up to now. They are studying the plan and commenting on it, thereby helping to publicize it.

Yet it is not occurring to many Americans doing this that they are part of a plan to build up something, too—a plan that goes back to the 18th century and the philosophy of Jean Jacques Rousseau, who believed in popular sovereignty—a plan that goes back, in fact, to the dignity of the individual, as conceived by the Christian advocates early in this Christian era. Russia's plan is for 20 years. America's plan is forever.

It has been years since Americans who believed in World War I that the world could be made safe for democracy have reaffirmed their belief. It has been only in the 20th century, though, that Americans ceased to speak of themselves as instigators of revolution and ceased to play a proud and active part in every fight against tyranny.

BUT THOUGH they have quit talking about this, they still think about it. Americans still believe inwardly their ideas of political organization will win out in the long pull.

This is why they support foreign aid efforts. It is why they endure punitive taxation to pay for programs to combat Communist mischief. It is why they remain unconvinced that the Communist Conspiracy can ever hope to do what it talks about doing so confidently. They believe one-party dictatorship is built on a wrong premise; that popular sovereignty is infinitely better than the class dictatorship of the Communist Conspiracy.

Why, then, is there no world-publicized plan for doing this?

The reason is that popular sovereignty is not a 20-year plan. It is a plan for 1,000 years, for 10,000 years, for a millennium.

Why don't Americans speak up for their plan?

Because they think their plan speaks up for itself in the way they live and in the fact more inhabitants of the earth would choose to come here than any other if all restrictions on going and coming were removed.

Are Americans in danger of losing momentum in their own thoughts and prestige in the opinion of others by failing to publicize their plan at a time when their increasingly powerful rival is three-sheeting its new 20-year plan?

AMERICANS never have taken the wraps off their publicity department.

They never have developed a sure touch or the right pitch for blowing their own horn.

All too often they haven't even taken the trouble to let ignorant, careless and sometimes ungrateful people know where their U.S. aid was coming from.

If instead of letting the Communist Conspirators in Russia steal their thunder with a little 20-year plan, Americans had come out first with a 200-year plan, or a 2,000-year plan, no one would care what Premier Khrushchev said he had up his sleeve for the next two decades.

America is still the trustee for world revolution—not the counter-revolutionists who have set up shop temporarily in Moscow and Peking.

But Americans have neglected their publicity. They have forgotten how to beat their own drum.

Then Suddenly It's Spring

It is being reliably reported from Washington that the newest foreign-aid bill will go whopping through both houses of Congress, propelled by extra-hard pushing this year by President Kennedy in person.

Extra-hard pushing is required because this newest bill includes nearly $9 billion worth of borrowing authority and lending authority for the next five years, in addition to nearly $5 billion of giveaway authority. Congress always takes a dim view of delegating its authority over annual appropriations.

But beyond that, Congress has learned from its constituents back home that foreign aid has come into bad repute as one of the prime money-wasters of all time. There are some congressmen, perhaps many congressmen, who understand that this large-scale spending is closely associated with a certain type of domestic aid, but they do not find it convenient to argue for it publicly on this basis.

This helps to explain why evidence of wastefulness can be taken in stride by so many men in public life. It helps to explain why foreign aid this year, as before, will go through the congressional bottleneck like an egg goes through the neck of a milk bottle—a tight squeak then pop! It's done for keeps.

Forgotten then will be all dark misgivings about supernumeraries frittering away money, ungrateful recipients biting the hand that feeds them, blackmailing mendicants threatening to take their begging where they will be appreciated, sleep-walkers starting projects that lead to nowhere and Fancy Dances quicker with a dollar than a toad is with a fly.

When the time comes to pass another foreign-aid bill, suddenly it's Spring! All is well, or will be soon. Men are brothers, standing shoulder to shoulder, except when standing back to back looking in opposite directions.

Peace it's wonderful. Almost as wonderful as money.

Director Hoover Is Clear

It is too much to hope that J. Edgar Hoover will be understood in a blast against pardoning and paroling and suspending the sentences of convicted criminals. His comments appear in the August issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

Of 154 individuals on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list between March 1950 and June 1961, he declares, 130 previously had received suspended sentences, parole, or probation.

"Nothing discourages and disheartens law enforcement officers more than the knowledge that their efforts in apprehending criminals are too often no more than useless expenditures of time and money—useless because unwarranted leniency in the form of suspended sentences, parole, or probation so frequently makes a mockery of good police work," sadly concludes the FBI director.

He feels strongly that vice is the breeding ground for crimes of violence and that individuals arrested for lottery, numbers rackets, gambling, bookmaking, prostitution and operating a disorderly house get off too easy. Crime, he points out, is continuing to increase in America.

Mr. Hoover's complaint is not against the idea of rehabilitating people who have been convicted on criminal charges, though that will be a common interpretation of his remarks. It is against bad administration of pardon and parole processes and against "misinformed and misguided jurists and an apathetic citizenry who cause and condone the release of hardened criminals, who gloatingly accept society's softness and repay it in the coin of treachery."

FBI Director Hoover is clear about this—more so than people who will quote him are likely to be. It's not the idea of rehabilitation but the maladministration of the idea that he finds objectionable.

Bar The Door

One thing about airplane piracy that makes it easier than sea piracy is the ready access to the "bridge" by would-be pirates.

In all air piracy incidents, the accounts have said the pirates walked into the cockpit of the plane and pulled guns.

By this time, no doubt, the pilot and his companions in the cockpit must be looking over their shoulders whenever the door opens, which leads to a well-meant inquiry: Why not bar the door?

No one has a right to enter the cockpit of an airplane without an invitation. A door has been provided to bar entry. But the door itself has not been barred.

We say "barred" instead of "locked," because a lock could be a problem. There would have to be keys, and keys would get lost. Barring doors was common long before there were locks and, for the protection of passengers who don't relish the idea of getting enmeshed in the air piracy plot, should become common again.

Quadrennial Reorganization In Foggy-Bottom

The Friendly Turks

By VICTOR RIESEL

ANKARA

If you fear the Russians, come live with the Turks for a while. It's refreshing despite the noon-day sun. Here it is just plain good to relax in the open-hearted friendship for Americans—

A friendship we don't have to buy. Here it is good to see a people who have fought the Russians in 14 wars during the past 300 years and still don't fear them.

Here it is delightful to know that just an hour's jet flight north-eastward to the Erzurum area near the Soviet border there is a dialect spoken which has no endemic word for enemy—the word they use is "Moskov"—meaning that if it's Russian it's bad and not to be trusted.

Whether you talk to a peasant or an oil worker or a street laborer or Mr. Namik Yolga, permanent under secretary of state (Foreign Ministry), as I just have, you find that the Turks want no war but neither do they want any dealings with the Soviets.

Within the past few months the Russians have offered almost $400 million in industrial aid to this mighty poor country. The Turks turned it down.

During the recently overthrown Menderes regime, the Russians did convince some Turks to accept a $2½ million loan for a small glass factory.

THE TURKISH authorities came to the U.S. officials here and told us what was happening and urged us to try and head it off.

One of the most forceful reasons for the overthrow of the dictator, Adnan Menderes by the new government was his plan to visit Moscow and develop a black-mailing neutrality against us.

Not only do the Turks not want Russia's bribes, not only do they not fear the Soviet bloc but our friends openly show their contempt for the Red soldiers.

I was with a group of young Turks and U.S. military men the other night. I spoke of my fascination with the nearby Russian border.

I was told, for example, of the area around Hopa. There the Russians have been slipping in a man or two a night.

The Turks let them infiltrate. Then a dead body, or two, is shipped back across the Red frontier each day.

I heard one Turk tell of orders to the Turkish soldiers. One of these directives said, in effect, you must kill 10 of the invading Red troops before you retreat one step if fighting starts. If you don't kill 10 invaders before you step back you will be arrested as a deserter.

OF COURSE, the Russians try to entice Turkish soldiers across the border. This would give them

"evidence" of NATO espionage.

So the Russians send women to bathe nude in the Black Sea near Hopa. Then the women walk scantily clad into the fields just over their own line.

The Turks call in their buddies and view it all as a girlie show. But no one takes this bribe either.

They tell me there are some 20 kilometers between Hopa and the border. A good deal of this terrain is covered with smooth impressionable sand and dust. So at night the Turkish soldiers put their boots on backwards and walk towards the Russian territory.

When Russian officers survey this in the morning it appears that scores of men left the Soviets and sought haven inside Turkey. This gives the appearance of a flight of refugees.

No one here underestimates the power of a giant stroke of the bear's paw. But no one here, right under the guns, is frightened, either.

THIS COLD CONTEMPT for the Russians and Soviet Communism spills over into other fields as well. The unions here, under the new Gursel government, are a good example of this.

The national labor federation here is called "Turk-is" for short. Under the new law it can affiliate with international labor organizations of which there are many around the world.

But the new government says that "Turk-is" cannot tie up with global outfits which are not democratic and which do not adhere to the principles of human rights. This means no affiliation with Communist labor groups.

Naturally all this gives ulcers to the officials at the Soviet Embassy over on New Parliament St. where I found myself unwelcome in several languages.

The Soviets may have 300 to 400 followers in all of Turkey and its universities. But the Russians never give up. They use the "soft sell."

THIS IS DONE through a secret, all Turkish broadcasting station located 500 miles distant in Eastern Germany. This station is strong enough to saturate all Turkey. It comes in clear here, with news and music and just the slightest anti-U.S. slant. But its pressure is steady.

It calls itself "Our Radio"—Nizim Radyo. The peasants listen to it in the villages. The workers tune in while sitting in the coffee houses. It must cost the Russians millions of dollars. But Nizim Radyo has won friends. The government here will try to counter it with a new broadcasting unit. But that takes money.

This is a poor country. Most of it is farm land.

The Turks—the government people—never were merchants or industrialists. They were and are soldiers.

With no industry here yet, the average per capita income is $150 a year—three bucks a week. In the cities the pay runs a little higher—anywhere from $4.20 to nine dollars a week.

These are our friends and we must help them. We're building oil refineries and a big steel mill for the country. But we must help more and more—men earning $3 a week, or $9, despite their patriotism and fraternity for us and hatred for "Moskov," will not forever remain immune to such subtleties as Nazim Radyo.

Britain Set To 'Join the Continent'

It's a strange paradox that while the American people are worrying over the Berlin crisis and whether military reservists will soon be called up for active duty, the peoples of Europe are talking excitedly about Great Britain's momentous decision "to join the Continent."

Strictly speaking, the British are merely applying for membership in the European Economic Community—known as the Common Market but the speculation all the way from Moscow to the faraway commonwealths of Canada and Australia is concerned with what the move may mean by way of European political union.

On its face, the discussion of political purposes in an international sense is puzzling. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization already includes all of the members of the Common Market countries, known as "The Six."

It also embraces four of the countries—Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark—associated together in a rival organization known as the European Free Trade Association or "The Seven."

Moscow, indeed, sarcastically calls the whole combination just another "economic subdivision of NATO."

The truth is that political solidarity in Europe in the long run is dependent on economic prosperity. The drive now is to assure the formation of such a powerful economic alliance that it could, if it liked, play a decisive part in the political program of a united Europe.

The political complexion, however, which some of the members of the six Common Market countries—France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—have tried to introduce in their recent meetings is by no means assured of harmony in the future.

Although it was decided by resolution to give political form and substance to the organization, there are differences of opinion as to what formula shall be applied.

FRANCE, for example, with the strong nationalistic philosophy that is expressed so often by President de Gaulle, is inclined more toward the idea of a loose federation of equals with the hope of French leadership eventually.

The smaller countries are veering toward a "supra-national" union, or something analogous to the United States of America.

Since decisions on this point can be taken only by unanimous vote, it would seem that political integration is a long way off.

There is, therefore, greater enthusiasm among the smaller countries over the decision of Britain to enter the Common Market organization than there is in Paris.

The presence of two major powers—France and Britain—in the enlarged Common Market could tend gradually to lessen the political emphasis and keep the organization preoccupied, as it inevitably must be, with the technically difficult questions of tariff changes to be applied as between the various member countries.

While a free-trade setup is the goal, all sorts of special arrangements may have to be worked out in the transition period, particularly in Britain's trade relations with Canada and Australia and the other Commonwealth countries.

In the final analysis, the enlarged organization will have to draw a line between political and economic questions.

Certainly Sweden, Switzerland, Finland and Austria—due to their special positions of neutrality—will wish to have the status only of an associate member, while Denmark, Norway, Portugal and Great Britain will accept the obligations of full-fledged membership in the bigger Common Market organization.

INSIDE BRITAIN, the controversy rages as to whether the decision to "join the Continent" is a wise one. Obviously, those business or labor groups whose industries are to be adversely affected do not like the idea.

Others, foreseeing an expanded market made available on the Continent, are enthusiastically backing the plan.

Prime Minister Macmillan is moving cautiously and is taking one step at a time.

It probably will be several months before all the differences, especially with the Commonwealth countries, will be ironed out, and before the economic effects will be really felt.

Also, Mr. Macmillan probably found solace in the old adage: "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Surely, Great Britain will have more of a say and more influence inside the Common Market than outside, particularly if major political decisions have to be made.

So far as the United States is concerned, the impression prevails in Europe that the proposed merger of "The Six" and "The Seven" into a big Common Market operation is popular in America.

Actually, the Washington government has informally expressed its hope that some kind of economic union will be successful and that political solidarity will be achieved by one means or another.

Naturally, the United States doesn't offer any advice as to details but confines itself at this time to giving support to the general principle of reduced tariffs and to the drive for a bigger trade volume all around.

The Rusticities

By TRUMAN TWILL

The idea of a people refuge isn't new, but I propose to give it a new twist.

In my people refuge the whole emphasis will be on rusticity. It will be Waldenville.

There are college campuses where simplicity is encouraged. There are other out-of-the-way places where people can live inexpensively, dress as they please and live as they please.

But we need a haven where the overriding idea would be to admit only people who weren't looking for a place to hide out temporarily but a place to settle down permanently in rustic surroundings—not necessarily scholars, not the disenfranchised—just people.

This would not be a "resort." It wouldn't even be a reservation. It would be nothing as hazardous as an area. It would be an entire section of the United States, where rusticity would be a deliberate choice, not an accident of geography or economics.

It would have to be a federal project, because rules and regulations would be necessary. We'd appropriate money to save a way of life for human beings who do not want to become involved in modern civilization. Naturally, the idea of such a public facility would be attractive to the Amish, but these devoted people should be given a separate place.

One of the things to be avoided in a people refuge would be preconceived patterns of behavior and belief. By and large, the Amish can take care of themselves. The people who need help are on their own. No one's worrying about them.

Something in their makeup bars them from close participation in the Age of Gadgetry. They shy away from the status standards that other people worship. They are not, as the current expression goes, "with it." They aren't against it, but they aren't "with it."

For them there should be a refuge—a place barred to gadgeteers, appliance salesmen, drives for the common welfare, changing styles, view windows, two cars in every garage and wall-to-wall carpeting.

They are entitled to peace in surroundings free from artificiality and so-called modern conveniences that turn into ogres that eat up mankind, one ounce of patience at a time.

They have a right to be born into a world free from ostentation, to live in a world where personal values are esteemed above group values and to die and call it quits, if they choose, with nothing but a plain coffin to mark their passage into the rusticity of the hereafter.

It will be, you can bet, rustic in the hereafter. Everything there will be as it was in the beginning—no modern conveniences that would be out of keeping with the decor. Besides, who would need them?

If there are places for the super-elite, playgrounds for playboys, happy havens for all special interest groups and even woody camps for city kids, why shouldn't there be some part of America for people who never turned against the simplicities and would gladly go back to the rusticities.

Telephone chats by satellites are near and ultimately a housewife in Hoboken may tie up outer space situation as she gossips with a friend in Glasgow or Johannesburg. AT&T has signed up with Washington to get the "hello satellites" up there in the skies, so voices, messages and even TV shows can be bounced around the world with greatest of ease.

The heavens will be full of voices saying: "I hear she left her husband yesterday." "No, this is not Barney's fish market." "Aw hang up; you're on a busy satellite."

Maybe you will phone the grocer across the street and get one in the Casbah, Port Said or Dublin. Mistakes will happen on the phone, with or without bouncing messages by a chain of satellites.

Philadelphia Eagles Bomb College All-Stars 28-14

Collegians Score In Final Quarter

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, bristling from a greeting of boos from the fans, proved their National Football League championship pride Friday night by harpooning the college all-stars 28-14.

They beat a good collegiate football squad after a prolixe probe of its weakness—pass defense.

And the Eagles, booed by many of the 65,000 fans as they trotted onto the rain-soaked sod of Soldier Field, showed their detractors they could do it without the golden arm of Norm Van Brocklin—the quarterback who led them to the NFL crown last year, then quit and became coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

The All-Stars suffered a severe stroke of bad luck during warm-ups before the game, televised and broadcast by ABC. Navy's Joe Bellino, a key man in their strategy of attack, slipped while going down for a pass and pulled a right leg muscle. The All-American halfback, who soon begins a four-year stint in the Navy as an ensign, was to have made his last game a big one. He sat it out on the bench.

Bill Brown (Illinois-Chicago Bears) ran back the opening kickoff 39 yards and Norm Snead (Wake Forest-Washington Redskins) hit Aaron Thomas (Oregon State-San Francisco 49ers) with a 42-yard pass that went to the Eagles' 12.

It looked as if the All-Stars were primed, but they were pushed back to the 17, and the quickie strike was dead.

Minutes later, the Eagles got the ball on their 20. Sonny Jurgensen, Van Brocklin's understudy, was caught trying to pass. But he flipped the ball behind him like a globetrotter basketball player.

Pee Retzlaff took it for 13 yards. It touched off an 80-yard drive in seven plays, capped by Jurgensen's 27-yard touchdown pass to Tommy McDonald. He was completely in the open.

Can't Stop McDonald McDonald snared two more Jurgensen tosses, each for 24 yards, for touchdowns, and Retzlaff took one for 25 yards.

The Eagles led 21-0 at halftime and made it 28-0 with their fourth TD with four minutes left in the game.

Then Bill Kilmer (UCLA-49ers) brought the collegians to life with passes from the short punt, spread formation. In six plays they surged 75 yards. Kilmer capped it with an 18-yard scoring pitch to Glynn Gregory (SMU-Dallas Cowboys).

Then guard Dick Green (Ohio U-Cleveland Browns) intercepted a King Hill pass and lumbered 57 yards for a touchdown.

"Had we scored on that first play, we'd have had them on the run," said All-Star Head Coach Otto Graham. "I'd like to play them again—and on a dry field I think we'd beat them."

Coach Nick Skoric said: "Our guys were concerned about being somewhat downgraded while the stars were being touted, and we went out to justify our championship."

Hot Stove Leagues

Ken Stein and Jeff Zimmerman combined to hurl a no-hitter for Home Furniture over the Jaycees by the score of 16-4 to move the winners a half a game into first place in Class H action in one of eight Hot Stove League games played Friday.

In other games CIO 3816 dumped Greenford, 7-4; CIO 2463 tripped Famous Market, 3-1, and CIO 3372 ended CIO 4022 of Leetonia, 11-5 in Class E activity; Eljer nipped Sekely, 8-7 in extra innings and league-leading Electric Furnace defeated winless Youngstown Kitchens, 15-4 in Class F play.

Petrucchi's smashed the Eagles, 13-9 in Class G action and Toar's Wrestlers topped the Dairy Isle, 8-4 in a Class H tilt.

The Home Furniture crew upped their record to 9-1 to take sole possession of first over second place Ailes Insurance which has an 8-1 make, a half game back.

The Jaycees protested the game with the Furniture nine because the coach is not on the Home Furniture roster. A 10-run fourth inning turned the game into a rout for the winners.

Ken Stein and Jeff Zimmerman, besides holding the Jaycees hitless, sparked the Furniture win with two hits apiece, including a homer by Stein.

Jack Detweiler hurled a one-hitter for Toar's Wrestlers and rapped two hits for the winners. Dan Hippely collected the only hit off Detweiler for the Dairy Isle team.

Washington handcuffed the Greenford aggregation on one hit as he paced the CIO 3816 victory. Jackson lined a triple for the losers in the first inning.

Tracy Bissell fanned 12 Famous Market batters to feature in the CIO 2463 triumph. Bissell limited the losers to just two safeties. Dick Owens belted three hits for the CIO 2463 nine.

Parlontieri collected three hits to pace a seven-hit attack for the CIO 3372 team. Seven tallies in the fourth frame iced the contest for the winners. Leetonia was led in a losing cause by Jim West's three safeties.

Gary Stoddard rapped a home run and triple to feature for the Eljer nine but Joe Rottenborn's double and J. Shivers' single in the eighth inning won the game for Eljer. Rottenborn and Stoddard combined to limit Sekely's to three hits.

Electric Furnace copped its 12th game in 13 starts on strength of Jim Lantz's home run, triple and single. Gary Schuster led the losing Kitchens team, which has an 0-12 record, with two hits.

Scott Cranmer, Larry Kibler, Bob Briskin and Denny Heim all collected two hits each to power Petrucchi's to its win over the Eagles. Val Altomere with a home run and a double led the Eagles crew, which played with eight men.

PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAMS conducted by qualified physical education instructors sprang up all over the area this summer, including one which has been going on for several weeks at Salem's Reilly Stadium. A large turnout of volunteers has been working out at the Stadium three nights a week. Salem Senior High School boys shown practicing sit-ups are: top (l. to r.) Brian Houger, Jim Gibb and Fred Schramm. Bottom: Bob Steele, John Panzott and Dave Capel. The instructor is Blaine Morton, Salem High's head football coach.

Tigers Down Indians 6-1

Tribe Dropped 13 1/2 Games Off Pace

DETROIT (AP)—What a difference two months make.

On June 8 the Cleveland Indians, still in the thick of the thick of the American League pennant race, came to Detroit for a four-game series with the Tigers and won the opener, 1-0, on the pitching of Jim Perry and Frank Foulke.

Friday night the two teams opened another four-game series here, but the story had a different ending. The Tigers won a 6-1 decision on the home run hitting of Al Kaline and rookie Jake Wood and a seven-hitter by Frank Lary.

The victory kept the Tigers within a game and a half of the pace-setting New York Yankees. Cleveland, now in fourth place, was dropped to 13 1/2 games off the pace.

Lary, a 30-year-old right-hander, posted his 15th victory and his 14th complete game. He leads the league in complete games.

The loss was the third straight for Barry Latman (9-3), who was pounded hard from the start. The Tigers got two hits following a walk for a run in the second inning and Kaline's homer following a single by Bill Bruton produced two more in the third.

After Lary struck out as the leadoff batter in the fifth, Wood hit his homer into the lower left centerfield stands. Bruton then beat out a hit to short, when to third on a single by Kaline and scored on an infield out.

The Tigers got their last run in the sixth. Chico Fernandez led off with a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly to right field by Mike Roark.

Latman yielded all of the Tigers' runs and 10 of their 11 hits in working 5 2-3 innings. Dick Stigman and Joe Schaffernoth followed him to the mound.

Cleveland spoiled Lary's bid for a third shutout in the second inning when Willie Kirkland singled, went to third on a double by John Romano and scored on an infield out.

Reds Nip Bucs, Open 2-Game Lead in NL

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Wonderful Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's splendid southpaw, needs only one more victory to become the seventh pitcher in modern times to record 300 major league triumphs.

The 41-year-old Oklahoman registered his 11th victory of the season Friday night and 299th with the Braves, outpitching San Francisco's Mike McCormick 3-2. Outfielder Henry Aaron made the victory possible with a pair of home runs, the first tying the score in the seventh inning and the second breaking the tie in the ninth.

Cincinnati's Reds, leading the league, opened a two-game lead over Los Angeles, defeating Pittsburgh 5-4. The Dodgers dropped a 4-2 decision to the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8.

Spahn yielded only five hits for his fourth victory in five starts against the Giants this season. Milwaukee now trails the third place Giants by only one game.

Aaron's homers were his 28th and 29th of the season.

Frank Robinson, the league's leading home run and RBI man, drove in Cincinnati's winning run with a ninth-inning double.

The Pirates had taken a 4-2 lead in the eighth, climaxed by Dick Stuart's 17th home run. The Reds came back with four straight singles to tie the score.

George Altman slammed two homers—his 21st and 22nd—and drove in three runs to lead the Cubs to victory over the Dodgers.

Sandy Koufax was the Dodger starter and loser.

Julian Javier and Jim Schaffer hit two-run doubles to lead the Cards' 12-hit attack against four Philadelphia pitchers. The decisive run, however, was driven in by Stan Musial, who drew a walk as a pinch hitter with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Venturi Takes Lead In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ken Venturi wished the summer thunderstorms would let loose this morning.

The 30-year-old Venturi started Thursday's opening round in the morning and was caught in two showers. The afternoon remained clear. Venturi, used to the variable weather of San Francisco, shot a four-under par 68 to share the lead.

Friday, Venturi was an afternoon starter and at the 14th hole he again was deluged. Luckily, he already was three more strokes under par and he matched it through the mud the rest of the way.

He's teeing off this afternoon, leading the $35,000 Eastern Open Golf Tournament after two rounds with 137, seven strokes to the good of par and one in front of a dangerous trio of Gene Littler, defending champion, Gay Brewer Jr., and Doug Sanders.

70 Cars Ready for Tonight's Races

Salem's Welling, Shasteen Steadily Improve At Canfield

The many newcomers in the amateur division have been causing plenty of excitement at Canfield Speedway this year. And fans are in for a dose of the same when they get together with the late model division in a 10-race program tonight.

Among the newer pilots who have shown steady improvement and are expected to hit the victory trail soon are Jim Steinbeck of Youngstown, Bill Stambaugh of Boardman, Tom Shurtliff of Struthers, Merle Welling of Salem, Jack Templeton of Girard, Bob Stephens of Bristolville, Terry Smith of Woodworth, Steve Balog of Girard, Dick Shasteen of Salem, Bud Beech of Niles and a host of others.

Jack Seibert of Girard gained his first victory last week after running up among the leaders several times. Seibert has a 1955 Chevrolet.

All of these pilots will be back tonight along with many more. A field of 48 amateurs was in the pits last week and this figure should top the 50 mark this week.

The outstanding late model pilots in the district also will be on hand, giving Canfield some 70 cars in action.

Bill Forney of Youngstown and Jim Bickerstaff of Youngstown should provide plenty of fireworks. Forney is still "burning" after getting bumped out of feature victory last week. Forney was only a 100 yards from the finish line, when Bickerstaff nudged him. Bickerstaff then went on to win with Forney fifth. It was one of the most exciting races ever witnessed at Canfield.

There will be five heat races—three for the amateurs. Also listed are two Australian pursuits, a consolation for the amateurs and a 20-lap amateur feature and 25-lap late model feature.

Race time is 8:30 p.m. Time trials begin at 7.

Jim Stonemetz Sparkles in Relief

Stepanic's, Dickey's Win In County Softball Tourney

Stepanic's and Dickey's F e e d advanced into the semi-finals of the loser's bracket in the Columbiana County Softball Tournament by chalking up hard-fought victories at Kelley Park last night.

Stepanic's came from behind to whip East Liverpool Gallaghers, 3-1, and Dickey's Feed edged Industrial Mining, 6-5. Both losing outfits dropped out of the double-elimination tourney, narrowing the original 15-team field to six survivors.

The only two unbeaten teams left in the tourney, Old Dutch and Shaffer Ford, tangle at 1:15 p.m. Sunday. Besides Stepanic's and Dickey's, the other two teams still in the running with one defeat are East Liverpool East End and Tullis American.

Stepanic's is still in the tourney thanks largely to a no-hit, four-inning relief stint by Jim Stonemetz last night.

Gallagher's broke on top with a run in the second as Frank Kenny led off with a single, moved up on Gallagher's bounder and scored on Chumra's hit. Stepanic's tied it in the fourth on Vince Weyant's blow and moved ahead in the sixth as Jack Myers led off with a hit and rode home on Dave Drakulich's triple.

They added an insurance run in the seventh as Benny Roelen batted in Dick Dougherty.

Jim Stonemetz picked up the win while John Carter was tagged with the loss.

the bottom of the first to tie the score at 1-1.

Dickey's got four in the fifth as Ken Schoeni started it off with a walk. A sacrifice and Tucker's double got one run home. A walk, fielder's choice, an error and Dick Wyss' hit made it 5-1.

However, in the last of the sixth IM rallied as Chuck Bush and Hal King blasted back-to-back doubles. A walk, error and Jim Harnes' hit knotted the count at 5-5.

Jim Barnes led off the seventh with a hit. Bozich walked and Wyss again singled to plate Barnes with the winning run for Dickey's.

Undefeated B & W Clobbers Eljer, 11-3

Unbeaten B & W Research racked up its fifth consecutive victory of the season by downing Eljer 11-3 in a Slo-Pitch League make-up game played last night at Kelley Park.

Dearth led the B & W attack by rapping out two singles and a triple in four trips to the plate. Willis Colvin accounted for two of the six hits Eljer was able to garner off B & W hurler Wilson.

The setback for Eljer was its fourth in five starts.

Hunter Wins, Deitch Loses at E. Liverpool

Eighth seeded Dave Hunter of Salem defeated Joe Leigh of East Liverpool, 6-0, 6-1 in the opening round of the Lions Club Tennis Tournament which got under way last night in East Liverpool.

The other Salem entry in the tourney, Woody Deitch, was defeated 6-2, 6-2 by fifth seeded Ed Dupuy.

Armed Guards Reported On Some Airliners

Senate Continues Hearings On Air Piracy Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stuart G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, disclosed armed guards are riding some flights operating in the United States.

"It's probably just as well not to say which ones," Tipton told the Senate aviation subcommittee Friday.

The subcommittee held hearings on legislation to make airplane hijacking a federal crime punishable by life in prison. Whether this would be enough to deter hijackers prompted discussion of the possibility of armed guards.

Two Senators said it might be necessary—at least on flights within range of Fidel Castro's Cuba.

"This might be 'the best insurance we could buy,'" said Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., chairman of the subcommittee. Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., author of the proposed legislation, agreed with Monroney that it probably would be the most constructive thing we could do."

The hijackers who took over a Boeing 707 Thursday said they wanted to force the pilot to fly into Cuba.

On July 24 an Electra plane was hijacked after take-off from Miami, Fla., and flown to Cuba. The passengers and crew were returned, but the plane was held.

On May 1 a twin-engine Convair was hijacked between Miami and Key West, Fla., and flown to Cuba. It was later allowed to return to the United States.

After Thursday's hijacking over El Paso, Tex., the Federal Aviation Agency authorized the airlines to arm crew members who had received training in the use of firearms and were proficient in handling them.

Tipton said the airlines are concerned about "the possibility of gunplay." Concern also was expressed by Herbert J. Miller Jr., assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's criminal division.

Monroney said, however, that he is "not too concerned" about a bullet ripping a hole in the pressurized cabins of high-flying airliners. He said that planes already are equipped with oxygen masks that automatically fall into the laps of passengers if necessary.

The Kennedy administration gave its backing to the proposed hijacking legislation as a means of meeting the menace of "air drunks, flying fools, and spies in the sky."

The subcommittee called a closed-door session for Monday to act on the proposed legislation. Also under it, assaulting or threatening crew members would be made federal offenses. So would murder, robbery and other crimes committed aboard civil aircraft while in flight. And, anyone carrying a concealed weapon aboard a plane would be subject to a $1,000 fine.

Five Young Drivers Receive Penalties

LISBON — Traffic court hearings at the Courthouse this week resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two young motorists and the fining of three others.

Alfred G. Leyman, 16, Salem RD 4, was deprived of his license for 30 days for hit skip, and Robert Bruce Cole, 17, of Youngstown, 15 days for speeding.

Thomas H. Liemasters, 17, Newell, was fined $25, and Larry Edward Rouse, 16, Lisbon, $10, both for speeding.

Robert L. Mumpire, 16, MC 1, Salem, paid a $15 fine for reckless operation. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Rt. 14 Resurfacing Project Completed

According to word received from the State Highway Department, the contractor, Kelley and Meyer Co. of Youngstown, completed work Thursday on a resurfacing contract for 10.4 miles of Rt. 14 from the village of Columbiana east to the Pennsylvania state line.

Work was finished ahead of schedule on the $80,439 contract which had a completion date of Sept. 15, 1961.

RETURNS FROM CAMP

Rev. C. Leslie Wells of the Calvary Baptist Church has returned from Camp Patmos on Kelly's Island, Lake Erie, where he was a counselor and taught the Book of Jonah study course.

Mrs. C. Leslie Wells and children have also returned home from a trip to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Uber of Harbor Creek, Pa.

9 Candidates File With Election Board

Robert W. Walker of Adena in Jefferson County filed today with the Columbiana County Election Board to seek a new term at the Nov. 7 general election as the member of the State Board of Education from the five-county 18th Congressional District.

Walker has been a member of the board since it first was established four years ago. The board is comprised of one member from each of the 23 congressional districts in Ohio.

Walker's district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Carroll and Harrison counties. He is the first to enter.

Eight more new candidates were listed overnight by the Election Board, including one man seeking re-election to two posts in two separate political subdivisions.

The "double" candidacy was entered by Arnold Green of Rogers, seeking new terms both as Rogers village treasurer and as a member of the Board of Education of the Beaver Local School District.

Three other school board candidates filed. Ralph J. Starbuck entered for a seat on the Salem Board of Education. Arthur C. Pfund filed for the board in Columbiana and Paul W. Conrad entered for the board in Leetonia.

Arthur F. Knight and Norman Huffman filed for trustee posts in Unity Township. Charles H. Butler entered for Middleton Township trustee. Francis Brickner filed for Madison Township trustee.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board, issued a reminder that no election will be held in November for the unexpired term of Unity Township clerk, where a recent vacancy was filled by the trustees.

When Thomas W. Moore resigned as township clerk recently after many years' service, the trustees appointed Robert F. Smith to serve the entire unexpired term of a little over two years, O'Hanlon explained.

sets of the Deming Pump Co. in Salem.

The two area acquisitions by the Crane Co. are included in an $80 million acquisition program, that during a two-year period, has sharply reduced the number of company distributorships and increased its manufacturing facilities, it was reported.

Crane has been under order from the Federal Trade Commission to refrain from voting the Briggs Manufacturing stock pending outcome of an anti-trust investigation. Briggs also has a suit pending.

It was reported that Alliance-Ware's sales amount to $10 million annually. Crane had paid a total of $2,668,325 for the Briggs shares. Briggs stock closed yesterday on the New York Stock Exchange at $8.25, up 25 cents.

According to a report, the market value of the Briggs stock and the cash American Metal Products received from Crane for Alliance-Ware totaled substantially less than AMP's original cost, the Wall Street Journal reported. Alliance-Ware was acquired in 1955 for 350,000 AMP shares, which had a market value then of an estimated $10,095,700.

Traffic

not been able to talk with any of the injured to determine how or why the accident occurred.

The three men were in the same car but it has not been determined who was driving. It is believed that Stockdill hitchhiked a ride with the other two men.

Mrs. Peterson was driving the other car with her two foster children and mother as passengers.

All the patrol has been able to determine is that the three men, traveling south, and the Canfield family, headed north, collided head-on in the southbound lane with a terrific impact. Both cars were demolished.

The accident occurred on Rt. 62, about one and a half miles north of Rt. 165.

Mrs. Clay is the mother and Mrs. Peterson a sister of Kenneth Clay of W. 14th St. in Salem.

Former Leetonia Pastor Will Be Honored on Sunday

LEETONIA — A former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Leetonia will be honored through an annual Memorial Missionary offering during the worship service Sunday at 10:45 a.m.

Rev. H. C. Brillhart, D.D., served as pastor from 1909 to 1937, and as pastor emeritus from 1937 until his death in 1946. At the beginning of his ministry he desired to be a missionary but because of his health was turned down by the Church Board. A native Bible teacher in India has been supported by the offering.

This will be continued and the balance will be sent to Dr. "Jim" Stull in Liberia, Africa, who is well known locally. His wife, Betty, is the daughter of Pastor and Mrs. T. P. Laughner. The Stulls and their four children are expecting to be in this country for three months starting in October. They have been in Africa since July 1959.

The annual Methodist Church School picnic will be held at Firestone Park, Wednesday in the pavilion by the lake. The basket picnic will be served cafeteria style, starting at 6 p.m. Cold drink and coffee will be furnished. Games for the Primary Department will be supervised by Mrs. Lois Vestal, Beverly Shriver and Mrs. Thelma Davis, and games for the intermediates will be under the direction of Mrs. Harold Cleckner and Mrs. Joe Hollenshead.

There will be free swimming for the young people.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lance and daughters of East Aurora, N. Y., spent last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Holt.

Other guests in the Holt home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis and Mrs. Charles Clark and daughter Wendy of Damascus on Friday evening and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wylam of Youngstown Saturday evening.

The Intermediate M.Y.F. met Thursday evening at the Methodist Church. Randy Weikart opened with devotions. The treasurer reported $15.44 in treasury.

Cathy Cleckner will lead in devotion at the next meeting and Dennis Wire and Bill Hall will furnish refreshments.

The Band Mothers Club will hold a benefit in the former Beilhart Shoe Store room on Main Street, next week.

Four offenders were fined and two forfeited bonds in Mayor Ralph Kennedy's court last week. Those who were fined are: Stephen P. Bateman of Salem, $10, reckless operation; Lawrence B. Culp, Canfield, $10, speeding on State St.; Neil Sheely, RD 1, Leetonia, $20, reckless operation; Ignatius Zazac, 147 Chestnut St., $20, drunk and disorderly.

Forfeiting bonds were Harry C. Barnes, RD 1 Berlin Center, reckless operation, $15, and Marshall Amos, Columbiana, drunk and disorderly, $60.

mother with whom she lived, police said.

Dr. Donald McFarlane, county medical examiner, said there was no indication in the autopsies of the other two children that death was from other than natural causes. He said Karen Nemmers had a congenital heart ailment and the Fitzpatrick boy had virus pneumonia.

"These conditions could be aggravated by suffocation," Dr. McFarlane said.

Louis Fautsch, attorney for Miss Madigan, said her left arm is lame and injuries she suffered at birth partially closed an eye. Police were told she was born with a spastic paralysis.

The mother of the Fitzpatrick boy regarded Miss Madigan as a good sitter who "took excellent care of the children and did extra things around the house."

had been restored to all but a few of its customers Friday night. The first break occurred shortly before noon.

CEI spokesman said the failure may have resulted when a falling tree limb caused a short circuit in the 132,000-volt line, or main artery of its huge distribution system, near a substation on Ohio 306 south of Chesterland in Geauga County.

leasing a house during his stay. He also at one time maintained homes on Cape Cod and in Miami Beach, Fla.

Mr. Hunt was a generous donor to charity, civic and recreational projects here, although he made his contributions in a manner to avoid publicity. He donated to the Salvation Army the building it now occupies.

A World War I veteran, Mr. Hunt was active in various local organizations. A director of the Farmers National Bank, he was on the Salem City Hospital Board and was president of the Salem Manufacturers' Assn. He also was a trustee of the Central Clinic.

Mr. Hunt was born in Salem in 1899, a son of Charles B. and Effie Donaldson Hunt. He attended Salem schools.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Brand and Mrs. Marjorie Brand, and one son, Nathan K. Hunt, all of Boynton Beach; a sister, Mrs. Esther Orvebaugh, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services are scheduled Monday in Florida.

The family requests that memorial contributions take the form of donations to the Salvation Army.

ready to negotiate a settlement of the future of Germany and Berlin. But he advanced no specific proposals.

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said there would be "no comment at this time" on the Soviet note.

Hatcher said he doubted there would be any comment over the weekend.

Germany and Berlin, however, had no monopoly in the Kennedy-Stevenson talks.

proposal—a "misnomer and a diversion in this debate on foreign aid."

"I hope very much that the Republican party will not accept the slogan 'back-door spending' and allow its attention to be diverted from the true issues involved and from the important goals of our foreign aid program," Cooper said.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., also announced his support of "the principle of some long-term borrowing authority in order to efficiently finance a meaningful development loan program."

against Cuba and its dictator, Fidel Castro, although there was no firm indication that the Cubans knew anything about the hijacking plan.

New precautions for preventing future hijacking in the air were ordered by the Federal Aviation Agency. An order allowed plane crewmen to arm themselves — a move not approved by all airlines or crew spokesmen.

Special guards also have been posted at several airports.

ring in all age groups. The medical staff of the hospital voted unanimously in favor of establishing the new department, he said.

Hospital officials hope to extend the service to well persons who desire massage, steam baths or apparatus exercise in the interest of preventive medicine, Mosher stated.

Anyone desiring an appointment should contact the hospital.

FINED FOR OVERLOAD

Charles Minton, 41, of Evansville, Ind., was fined $25 and costs Friday by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer for truck overload.

Registration for Swimming Classes Begins Monday

Registration for the third session of Red Cross swimming lessons to be held at the Centennial Park Pool will begin Monday from 2 to 7 p.m. and every day thereafter until the start of the lessons on Monday, Aug. 14.

The courses that will be offered include, water safety aids, which will last one week from 9 a.m. to 12 noon starting Aug. 14. After the one week period the Aids will help teach the two beginners swimming classes; junior and senior life saving and intermediate swimmers classes will be from 9 to 10 a.m. each morning for the three weeks of the session.

Beginners classes, for those nine and over, will be taught from 10 to 11 a.m. and those beginners from six to eight will be taught from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

The age prerequisites for all lessons are as follows: water safety aids: 14 to 17 years old, junior or senior life saving certificates and swimmers certificate; junior life saving: 12 to 15 years old, or seventh through 10th grade of school; senior life saving: 16 years old or older, or in and above the 11th grade of school.

All registrations will be held at the Centennial Park Pool as in the past.

$100 Damage Caused By E. Palestine Fire

EAST PALESTINE — An estimated $100 damage resulted from a fire at the Adamson Co. plant on E. Clark St. at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Fire Chief Glenn Libert estimated damage to the building at $25 and damage to its contents at $75.

The fire, confined to the floor of the wood shop, apparently started when a spark from an electric saw landed in waste shavings. Heat from the fire set off the sprinkling system in the plant.

The company manufactures underground storage tanks.

E. Palestine Workers To Get TB Tests

EAST PALESTINE — The Columbiana County Health League will sponsor a Heaf Skin Testing program for the detection of tuberculosis at two local plants Monday.

The unit will visit the Kenmar Furniture Co. at 7 a.m., and will operate at the Royal China Corp. from 2 to 4 p.m.

An estimated 300 employees of both firms will participate in the checks. Those with positive reactions will be asked to attend the X-ray clinic at the American Legion Fair Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. The mobile unit will be set up in front of the Legion Home on N. Walnut St.
